Chelsom create bespoke lighting scheme for Novotel London Blackfriars.

Accor portfolio of hotels has expanded even further with their Novotel London Blackfriars hotel, just a stone's throw from the South Bank attractions of Tate Modern, St Paul's Cathedral and the London Eye.

Proof Consultancy Ltd wanted to create an urban inspired look and chose Chelsom lighting to be used throughout the public areas. Custom designed fixtures were made especially for the reception, restaurant and bar areas, using matt black shades and contemporary lines and shapes. There is a dramatic centre piece above the bar, supported on a black powder coated frame, the piece has a cluster of cotton shades at various heights which maximises the output of light in this area.

There are many wall lights along the restaurant wall which have shallow tapered drum shades. These are suspended from arm brackets, throwing ambient lighting onto the tables below. The breakout areas however, have slim curved arm pendants with huge shades which are lined in a sunflower yellow pongee silk.
